HOUSTON, November 3, 2015 – Targa Resources Corp. (NYSE: TRGP) (“Targa Resources”, “TRC” or the “Company”) and Targa Resources Partners LP (NYSE: NGLS) (“Targa Resources Partners”, “TRP” or the “Partnership”) (together “Targa”) today announced that TRC will acquire all of the outstanding common units of the Partnership not already owned by TRC in an all stock-for-unit transaction at a ratio of 0.62 TRC common shares per common unit of Targa Resources Partners. The implied TRP unit price represents an 18% premium to its volume-weighted average price during the 10 trading days ending November 2, 2015.

Following this transaction, TRC expects dividend growth of 15% for 2016 and greater than 10% compound annual dividend growth through 2018, assuming consensus analyst commodity prices and related capex and other assumptions as outlined in the investor presentation described below.

Following completion of the transaction, all of the outstanding common units of TRP will be owned by TRC and will no longer be publicly traded. The incentive distribution rights of TRP will be eliminated. All of TRP’s outstanding debt and Series A preferred units will remain outstanding. No additional financing is required for the transaction.

TRC has posted an updated investor presentation in the Events and Presentations section of its website at www.targaresources.com that includes an overview of the transaction, transaction rationale, and multi-year estimates for TRC dividends per share, dividend coverage and leverage for the base case using consensus analyst commodity prices. A sensitivity case using reduced commodity prices, lower capex and other related assumptions is also included with multi-year estimates for dividends per share and dividend coverage. Under the reduced commodity price scenario, TRC estimates dividend growth of 10% in 2016 and modest growth thereafter.

Management Commentary

“The combination of TRC and TRP will provide both immediate and long-term benefits to TRC and TRP investors. By improving our coverage and credit profile, simplifying our structure, lowering our cost of capital, and increasing our retained cash flow, we will be better positioned to continue to invest in high-return growth projects that will drive dividend growth beyond 2016,” said Joe Bob Perkins, Chief Executive Officer of the Company and of the general partner of the Partnership. “This transaction is attractive for Targa’s stakeholders, with better positioning in lower commodity price environments and enhanced growth in price recovery scenarios.”

Conditions to Closing

The Board of Directors of TRC (the “TRC Board”), the Conflicts Committee (the “Conflicts Committee”) of the Board of Directors of the general partner of TRP (the “TRP Board”) and the TRP Board have approved the merger agreement. Subject to customary approvals and conditions, including the expiration or termination of all waiting periods under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act, the transaction is expected to close in the first quarter of 2016. The transaction is subject to the approval of the common unitholders of TRP and shareholders of TRC.
